Advances in Medicine Noted by Druggist

BY J. D. WHITMAN

"1955 will bring even better help to live a longer and healthier life," said J. D. Whitman of the Whitman Drug Co. "There is no doubt that more important discoveries will be made. Before insulin was introduced in 1923 we had only two drugs that were positive in their action—quinine and sulphur. All others couldn't always be depended on to accomplish a desired effect.

"Since insulin we now have sulfa compounds, natural and synthetic hormones, anti-biotics, and many man-made chemicals all of which give results that have been the hopeful dream of physicians through the ages. Although millions of dollars are often spent perfecting a single new drug, the cost of medicine per capita is now about 10 per cent less than it used to be.

"Prescriptions may cost five or ten dollars, but they can often do, prevent operations. They give relief so much quicker that you stay in bed less, and your physician makes fewer visits.

"For example, mastoid operations have been eliminated practically because of an early diagnosis and about $15 worth of antibiotics quickly bring relief. "The dream of every physician is to have medicines that will cure any sickness. Now that radioactive isotopes are being made freely available for research, scientists are beginning to learn exactly how every drug works in every part of your body. "You physician," said Mr. Whitman, "can now do so much more for you than in the past, that it is folly not to consult him at the first sign of any illness."

The Elba chapter of F. H. A. served as hostess to the officers of the Kinston, New Brighton and Enterprise chapters last week.

The girls were welcomed as they arrived by Sue Morrow, Elizabeth Bullard and Bobbie Sue King. Ellen Carter, Betty Ruth Clark and Pave Spurlin planned the program. A theme of George Washington's birthday and Valentine's Day was carried out in the refreshments planned by Jo Bryan, Ann Cowen and Peggy Daniels.

Regular meeting of the Elba F. H. A. chapter was held Feb. 15 at the auditorium. Rev. Herman Daniels of Mt. Olive Baptist church was the speaker. Pave Spurlin gave the devotional and Jo Bryan presided at the meeting.

Elba High School students who are participating in the oratorical contest sponsored by the Birmingham News-Age-Herald had their final elimination for this school Monday afternoon at the auditorium.

There were several brilliant orations with no great variation in quality. The three leading speeches in the order in which they were made by Lister Brunson, Douglas Easters and Ida Smith. Other contestants who made splendid speeches but were not heard to be let alone, were M. A. Miller, Martha Mullins and Sybil Rowell.

—17 Years Ago— Mrs. Josephine Frazer Bradley presented her music pupils in a brilliant recital last Friday evening in the high school auditorium. The beauty of the stage setting was enhanced by the artistic arrangement of spring flowers in shades of coral pink. The young tenor voice of James Martin was never heard to let alone, "The World is Waiting for the Sunrise." As an accompaniment, Mrs. Bradley played her own arrangement which was applause and was repeated.

As a climax of the program, Marguerite Edmondson and Mrs.

Public Is Saving At Near Record Peacetime Rate

CHICAGO—The American public has been saving at a near record peacetime rate—paying off debts, slowing away dollars, buying more U. S. Savings bonds, putting more into state and municipal funds and investing more in savings and loan shares.

In the first six months of 1954, time deposits in the country's commercial and savings banks increased more than $5 billion, according to a study by the Chicago Federal Reserve Bank. . . big increase at any time since the war. Such deposits now total $72 billion.

The total insurance "equity" of the American public reached a record $99.1 billion in the year ending last June—more than 40 per cent above the previous level. Insurance and pension reserves expanded by $2.7 billion. Investments in U. S. government securities jumped $2.1 billion—three times as much as the last full year.

—17 Years Ago— In the first six months of 1937, the savings bond at a record pace. September's net purchases amounted to $100 million, the highest monthly figure since 1945.

People Don't Fall In Love—But Learn

EAST LANSING, Mich.—Falling in love just isn't taught regardless of what the song writers say. No one "falls" into love, instead, we all learn to love as we learn to walk and talk.

So says Dr. Elmer Knowles, of Michigan State College's department of home management and child development. He says: "We grow into love and it grows in us beginning with birth. So, most of us have a pension reserve when we are born. The level of our love in loving and being loved by the time we feel grown-up enough to get married."

He adds: "As children we learn to love mom and dad and our sisters and brothers. Then we learned to love our playmates, unless which we presents a problem of the family. Most of us became fond of one or more of our school teachers. And then came the first big crush of puppy love.

Love, he explains, involves the entire personality: intuition, reason, a few traits, mostly physical. When young couple enjoy another's company only when dating in the moonlight and have nothing in common in everyday life, they're not really in love.

True love is outgoing. When a couple brings new energy and ambition into each other's lives—this indicates real love rather than infatuation.

What's the NEW news in the '55 cars?

Is it V-8 Power?
Ford has had it since 1932

14,000,000 Ford V-8's have been built. This is more than all other makes combined. Ford was first to offer a V-8 engine in a low-priced car. And since the original Ford V-8 was introduced in 1932, more than 14 million more have been built.

Is it Ball-Joint Suspension?
Ford had it in 1954

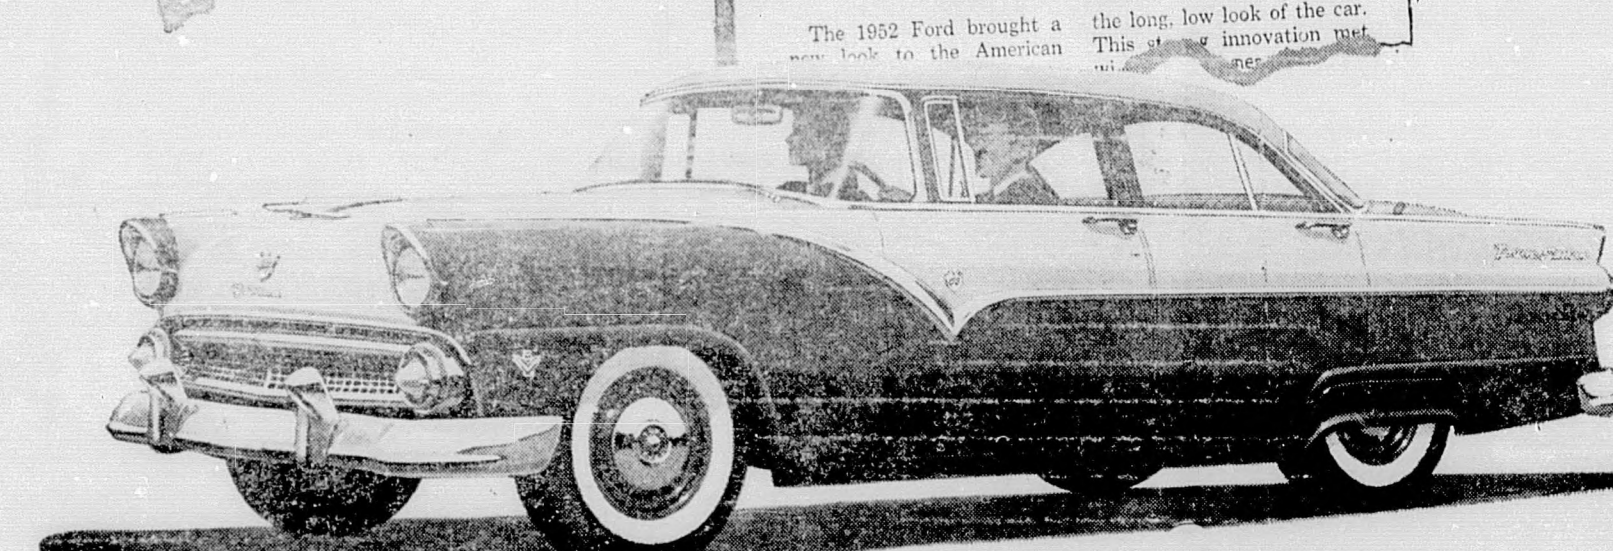

Ford introduced Ball-Joint Front Suspension to the low-price field in 1954. This superior type of suspension has been used in the new 1955 Ford.

Is it oil and battery signal lights, curved instrument panel, rotary door latches, push-button door handles, power-lifts for all windows, Overdrive, Hotchkiss Drive?
Ford has had all of them, too!

Introduced in the 1952 model year, Ford was first in the low-price field with suspension pedals. This advanced type of pedals space for the driver's feet and eliminates dusty, drafty holes in the floorboard. Suspended pedals are extremely easy to use.

Is it hood-high fenders?
Ford introduced them in 1952

The 1952 Ford brought a new look to the American car. The long, low look of the car. This new innovation had been seen in the European cars.

The NEWS is Thunderbird Styling
It's not the look you saw in any of last year's cars. It's the new look inspired by the Thunderbird. And it set the styling for Ford's '55 lines.

The NEWS is Trigger-Torque Power
It's trigger-quick "GO" which can obey your commands in 7/100 of a second—four times faster than you can wink.

The NEWS is Angle-Poised Ride
An advanced form of Ball-Joint Suspension which swallows the big bumps . . . makes even smooth roads ride smoother.

Man Willing $40,000 By Woman He Met Once

CUYLER, N. Y.—A bachelor, who had been a woman he saw one time, took to dinner and never saw again, said, "She must have been lovely."

Joe Kogut, 45-year-old railroadman, was attending a convention in Chicago when he met Miss Margaret Jorgenson of Oakbrook, Ill., in an elevator four years ago.

He recalls he had come down a hotel elevator. The elevator was just over, so he remarked to her, "It's been a rough day for the Democrats, hasn't it?"

"It turned out," he recalls that she was a "red-necked Republican," he said. He took her to dinner and they said good-bye. He sent Christmas cards, she wrote "a few times."

Miss Jorgenson died in 1951, at age 66 and willed him all of her $42,000 estate. Her relatives claimed and won a large share of her estate. Attorney fees claimed another chunk. Kogut got $40,000.

Pearl Fishing Anew Off East India Coast

MADRAS, India—Pearl fishing is due to start again off the coast of Madras after more than 20 years.

Recent investigations by the State Fisheries Department disclosed the existence of fully developed oysters in the "pearl banks" of Puttur, an east-coast port of South Madras.

A survey carried out in November struck a large shoal of "spats"—unmatured pearl oysters. Later expeditions confirmed that this shoal was maintaining its strength.

There are about 40 main "pearl banks" over a 100-mile stretch of sea from Cape Comorin to Tranquebar on the Gulf of Mannar.

L. R. McInnis (Old Doc Wise) Farm at Ino

Two weeks ago the L. R. McInnis place in Ino community was run as the Mystery Farm. Formerly known as the "Old Doc Wise Place" the farm is still in the same family as Peter Wise who homesteaded the farm was Mrs. McInnis' grandfather. The farm has always been in the Wise family.

Since moving on the place in 1947, Mrs. McInnis has remodeled the house, putting in running water, a bath and many cabinets. The base of the house is over 30 years old. Mr. McInnis said when remodeling work was going on, he found that the sills were lighter than he had expected and put in for window panes. The wood is still in good shape.

Mrs. McInnis is the former Elsie Dell Wise. The couple were married in Jan. 1940 and have two children. They are Jimmy who is 7-years-old and Kinston, the second grade at Kinston and Eddie who is 3-years-old.

The 4-acre farm belongs to the Farm Bureau and Baptist church. Mrs. McInnis has worked out a "feeder hog" operation on the 80-acre farm. Of the 20 pigs on the place, 14 are in cultivation. Of the 24, 3 are in cotton, 10 in peanuts, 13 in permanent pasture and the rest in oats and corn. On the acre last fall, the two community residents harvested 3 bales of cotton and 400 pounds of peanuts off 8 acres.

SOIL CONSERVATION

O. F. McCollough, Lee community, has finished marketing the timber on 35 acres of his woodland. Before selling the timber a Soil Conservation Service technician suggested the woodlot be marked. He called on Jack Monk, farm forester, to assist him in marking the trees that should be cut. Trees that were diseased, mature, or too crowded were marked to be taken out. This gave those left room to grow much faster.

Mr. McCollough sold $34 worth of timber from each acre. A good stand of trees were left on the land. In a few years another cutting can be made.

According to Mr. McCollough this is the way to sell woodland. He says that when he has more timber to sell, he will have it marked.
